NAMELESS HERO IS LAID TO REST IN BOSOM OF HOME LAND

In the Marble Sarcophagus in Arlington Cemetery, Hallowed Body Now Lies.

CEREMONY ENDS AT 1:27

Homage Unknown to Emperor's Dead, With Sorrowing Multitude a Witness, Paid "Unknown."

"HEARD AROUND THE WORLD"

Roar of the Mighty Guns Echoes the Salute Through the Virginia Hills.

(By United Press)

Arlington National Cemetery, Nov. 11.—America's nameless hero is at rest.

The nation's sad rites are done. The homage unknown to emperor's dead is ended. The sorrowing multitude has turned back to the city.

The unknown soldier is left to sleep out time in the bosom of the Virginia hills. The ceremony of the burial was finished at 1:27 p. m. In the marble sarcophagus before the great amphitheater at Arlington, the hallowed body, symbolizing the war spirit of America, was laid to rest by the bravest of his comrades. His head rests upon the soil of France, stained with the life blood which had been scattered beneath his black casket shrouded in the flag for which he died.

Throughout the day the "unknown" was attended the highest tribute of the nation and the world. The roar of the mighty guns echoed the salute through the Virginia hills. It was a message "heard around the world." America's heroic dead sleeps at home at last.

As the silver bugles sobbed out taps the great multitude in the amphitheatre stood uncovered in mute farewell. "Lead Kindly Light," the favorite hymn of former President McKinley, preceded the commitment of the "dust unto dust and ashes unto ashes" ceremony conducted by Chaplain Brent.

Out from the group surrounding the grave stepped a giant figure in soldier uniform and overseas cap, Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr. of New York, and laid tenderly upon the tomb a wreath—the symbol of the pulch of anyone of the "unknown's" buddies.

The most touching tribute bestowed upon the casket was the wreath presented by the American and British war mothers. Proudly but tearfully these, representing the thousands of mothers who had lost lads in the war, were laid with tender and heartfelt sympathy on the tomb. Mrs. Emmett Digney represented America. Mrs. Julia McCadden represented Great Britain.

Standing opposite them was the stern old Croux Chief Coo, awaiting his turn. It came. With stern dignity of his quaint ancient warfare, he placed his offering, a war bonnet with trailing feathers, stripped from his own head. With it he laid down

No Living Hero Can Boast of Decorations Conferred on "Him"

Washington, Nov. 11.—No living hero can boast of military decorations equal to those today conferred on America's unknown soldier. The highest medals of seven nations were pinned onto the flag draping the casket. They were:

United States Congressional medal of honor, by President Harding.

Belgian croix de guerre, by Lieutenant General Baron Jacques.

Great Britain's Victoria cross, by Admiral Earl Beatty.

French "Medaille Militaire" with Croix de Guerre, by Marshall Foch.

Italian gold medal for bravery, by General Armando Diaz.

Czecho-Slovak war cross, by Dr. Bedrich Stepanek, minister to the United States.

Polish virtuti militari, by Prince Lubomirski, minister to the United States.

Whose Boy Is It,

Washington, Nov. 11.—More than 3,000 mothers throughout the country today were saying:

"It may be my boy." War department records show that 3,089 American soldiers of the World War still are reported as missing. The unknown soldier buried here today, is one of this number.

SUMMONS WORLD TO WAR CRUSADE

President Says Sacrifice of "Unknown" and Million Others "Shall Not be in Vain"

WORDS CARRY SIGNIFICANCE

Bending Reverently, With Audience Joining Softly, President Offers Up The Lord's Prayer

By RAYMOND CLAPPER (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Amphitheater Arlington National Cemetery, Nov. 11.—The commanding voice of the world was summoned to a crusade against armed warfare by President Harding as he stood at the hier of America's unkown dead today.

His sacrifice and that of the millions dead, "shall not be in vain", the president promised in a solemn vow that rang out over the silent mourners in the vast amphitheater.

"These must be—there shall be—the commanding voice of a conscious civilization against armed warfare."

President Harding addressed his measured words directly at the disarmament delegates who sat grouped in front of him. His declaration, uttered on the eve of the great conference that meets tomorrow, carried significance.

Pending reverently over the casket the president with the vast audience joining softly, offered up the Lord's prayer as he closed his address.

"I speak not as a pacifist fearing war, but as one who loves justice and hates war" Harding declared in voicing his resolution that civilization must make a supreme effort to end war for all time.

"Let us give our influence and strength, yea, of our aspirations and convictions, to put mankind in a little higher plane, exulting and exalting, with war's distressing and depressing tragedies barred from the stage of righteous civilization" he pleaded. With vivid strokes, Harding painted the spectacular rain of death he witnesses during a modern battle demonstration at Camp Benning, Georgia, recently when the earth trembled as big guns sent shells shrieking over his head and tracer bullets flew past in deadly concentration.

"As this panorama of an utterable destruction visualized the horrors of modern conflict, there grew on me the sense of the failure of a civilization which can leave its problems to such cruel arbitrament" he continued. "Surely no one in authority with human attributes and a full appraisal of the patriotic loyalty of his countrymen, could ask the manhood of kingdom, empire or republic to make such a sacrifice until all reason had failed, until appeal to justice through understanding had been denied until every effort of love and consideration for fellowmen had been exhausted, until freedom itself and inviolate honor had been threatened."

SCHOOLS TRIBUTE TO SOLDIER DEAD

Children Bow Heads For Two Minutes at 11 O'clock as "Unknown" is Lowered Into Grave.

REPEAT THE LORD'S PRAYER

Church Bells and Court House Bell Told From 10:55 to 11:00 in Observing Armistice Day.

Armistice Day did not pass unobserved in Rushville or Rush county.

Although there was no celebration with accompanying brass bands and noise, there was an observance which centered in the schools of the county and had a deeper significance and served to impress on the coming generation the meaning of the occasion better than any other means that might have been used.

Church bells and the court house bell tolled from 10:55 to 11 o'clock this morning, arrangements being made for this observance with ministers and the county authorities by Rush Post of the American Legion.

The observance in the Rushville public school, which was arranged by Superintendent J. H. Scholl, was especially significant.

As the body of the unknown soldier was lowered into the grave at 12 o'clock noon, eastern time (11 a. m. Central time) every pupil in the Rushville schools, both grades and high school, bowed their head for two minutes during a period of quiet in honor of the soldier who symbolized the American heroic dead in the World War.

After the period of quiet in the high school, teachers read "Soldier Rest," by Sir Walter Scott, from "The Lady of The Lake," which appears at another place on this page. At the close of the two minutes of silence in the grades, lead by their teachers, the pupils repeated the Lord's Prayer, just as President Harding did at the conclusion of his address over the hier of the "Unknown" at Arlington.

Similar observance of the day was carried out in the township schools throughout the county, in accordance with a request from the county board of education delivered to the teachers.

In Rushville schools, teachers also made a few remarks regarding the day, calling attention to what it meant and signified in the life of every American. Pupils were asked to think that the soldier who was laid to rest today with as great ceremony as that accorded any president, statesman or war leader, might have been their father or brother; that he represented all of the noble men who had given their lives that children of the present day might live to enjoy the freedom and happiness which the republic of the United States guarantees to all its citizens.

The two minutes of silent reverence for the soldier dead at eleven o'clock was requested by President Harding as a token of respect from the people of America to the memory of the men and women who gave their lives in the late war.

St. Mary's Catholic church will hold special services tonight at 7:30 o'clock. They will take place in accordance with a request from Bishop Chartrand sent to all Catholic churches in the diocese.

Soldier, Rest!

Soldier, rest! thy warfare o'er,
Sleep the sleep that knows not breaking;
Dream of battle-fields no more,
Days of danger, nights of waking.

In our isle's enchanted hall,
Hands unseen thy couch are strewing;
Fairy strains of music fall,
Every sense in slumber dewing.

Soldier, rest; thy warfare o'er,
Dream of fighting fields no more;
Sleep the sleep that knows not breaking,
Morn of toil nor night of waking.

No rude sound shall reach thine ear,
Armor's clang or war-steed champing;
Trump, nor pibroch summon here,
Mustering clan, or squadron tramping.

Yet the lark's shrill life may come,
At the daybreak from the fallow,
And the bitter sound his drum,
Booming from the sedgy shallow.

Ruder sounds shall none be near,
Guards nor warders challenge here;
Here's no war-steed's neigh and champing,
Shouting clans or squadron's stamping.

—Sir Walter Scott.

This poem was read in the Rushville high school today at eleven o'clock, following a brief period of quiet, during which pupils bowed their heads and were silent. In the grades at the same time pupils were also asked to bow their heads for one minute, after which they repeated the Lord's Prayer, lead by their teachers.

WIDE RESPONSE TO POSTAL APPEAL

Campaign For House Numbers And Mail Receptacles in Rushville Heeded by Patrons

ARE BIG AID TO DELIVERY

Public Shows Disposition to Meet Requirements as Many New Numbers Are in Evidence

The campaign being conducted by the post office department for the betterment of house numbering and other conditions affecting mail service is meeting with success, it has been announced. The federal department originated the movement in the belief that a big improvement of the mail delivery service would result from the placing of numbers on all houses and places of business receiving mail, and the erection of proper receptacles for the mail to be placed in.

Much mail has been lost in the past because proper receptacles were not furnished in which to place it. The absence of numbers on houses has also been the cause of many cases of delay and of errors in delivery. To overcome these two conditions, the department started a campaign on October 19 in all the cities of the country, attempting to impress upon the people the importance of aiding mail service by paying better attention to these defects.

The local postoffice announced the campaign through the Daily Republican and a wide response to the appeal has already been noted by postal officials. Many patrons have placed numbers on their homes for the first time and others have installed mail receptacles on their houses. It is pointed out that it is to the interest of everyone to cooperate with the postoffice department in this matter as better mail service will result.

When it appears that the patrons are beginning to lag in their efforts to improve conditions, those who have not complied with the regulations will be notified that they are expected to have house numbers and receptacles.

The installing of proper mail containers is just as important, and is a matter which should be of as much interest to the person receiving mail as to the postal authorities, for valuable letters may be easily lost or stolen if the postman is unable to place them in a safe and convenient receptacle.

Those persons who have received notification that their houses are not properly equipped with numbers and mail receptacles, and who have

TRUSTEE HELD ON TWO INDICTMENTS

Alva Newhouse of Jackson Township Accused of Unlawfully Receiving Money.

NEGLIGENCE ALSO ALLEGED

Edwin Price in Jail on Wife Desertion Charge—"Bardy" Wilson John Bell Pay Fines.

With the close of the September term of court tomorrow, considerable business was being transacted today in order to close up all affairs on the docket, including the serving of a number of grand jury indictments that have been hanging over for several weeks.

Alva Newhouse, trustee of Jackson township, was arraigned on two grand jury indictments, and provided $1,000 bond on each charge, not entering a plea to the charges.

One charge, unlawful official negligence, alleges that on July 31, 1921, the trustee failed to comply with the law in awarding a contract for the repairing of the Chester Cross and Homer Powell road, to Walter C. Reinheimer, without advertising for competitive bids, as stipulated by law. The price was said to be $2,000 for the road work.

The other charge is unlawfully receiving money on a contract, and the indictment alleges that on June 15, 1919, the trustee entered into a contract with McGuire and Shook, architects for plans for a school building, and that the contract stated that the architects were to receive 3 per cent of the lowest competitive bid submitted for the proposed school.

The indictment charges that the lowest bid was for $6,500 and that the architects were paid $2,450, which was $500 in excess to the amount that they should have received, and it is charged that the trustee converted the money unlawfully.

The grand jury probed the alleged affairs for several days, and there were many taxpayers of the township called before them during their investigations.

Edwin Price went to jail this morning when he pleaded not guilty to a charge of wife desertion before Judge Sparks, and could not provide the necessary $1,000 bond.

Vernal McDaniel was arrested and arraigned this morning on an indictment charging him with assault and battery with intent, and he entered a plea of not guilty, and provided the $1,000 bond for his appearance in court next month.

Charles (Bardy) Wilson entered a plea of guilty to public intoxication, and was fined $5 and costs, and a similar plea and fine was paid by John (Hot Stuff) Bell, when arraigned at the same time this morning.

JURY IN A DISAGREEMENT

Fails to Agree in Case of Two Boys Charged With Theft

The jury in the case of the State against Gerard Goodin and Earl Hall, disagreed late yesterday afternoon, and the case will come up for trial some time during the next term. The two young men were charged with grand larceny in connection with the alleged theft of 40 chickens from the farm of Ithamer McCarty. It is understood that the jury stood five for conviction and seven for acquittal.

Thomas J. Marshall has brought suit against Capp Miller and Delaney Miller, the complaint being for $2,000 damages. The complaint is over a partnership on a woodland farm in Franklin county.

M. W. TEAM TO PRACTICE

The Modern Woodman degree team will hold a practice on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in preparation for the class adoption and pig roast that will be held next Thursday night, when 31 candidates will be initiated. All of the officers and foresters are urged to attend the practice next Tuesday. The pig roast will be a big event, and state officers will be here to take part in the work.

PLANS FOR GRAIN, HAY SHOW MADE

Increase of 25 to 50 Percent in Entries Indicated For Event
Nov. 26 to Dec. 30

AN INTERNATIONAL EXHIBIT

Prof. A. T. Wiancko of Purdue Will Serve on Corn Judging Committee at Chicago

Plans for the International Grain and Hay Show to be held in Chicago, Nov. 26 to Dec. 3, have been completed. Wider publicity has been given through the Crop Improvement Association, colleges, International Management, Chicago Board of Trade and other agencies, than in any previous year. Over 100,000 premium lists have been distributed. An increase of 25 to 50 percent in entries is indicated.

The Indiana Corn Growers' Association will send a representative to Chicago to look after Indiana's interests. C. A. Brown, President of the Corn Growers' Association, was selected for this place at the executive meeting of the Corn Growers' Association, Monday, October 24th. Mr. Brown will see that all Indiana entries are properly arranged in their classes and packed for return shipment at the close of the show.

Prof. A. T. Wiancko, of Purdue, will serve on the Corn Judging Committee. The other corn states to be represented with a corn judge are Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and Ohio. The judging will begin Saturday, Nov. 26, the opening day of the International.

Indiana Growers have an exceptional opportunity to try for a large share of the $100,000 premium list given by the Chicago Board of Trade. There are 50 places in both White and Yellow Dent corn in Regions 3 and 4, in Indiana, with prize money ranging from $50 to $5. The Junior Contest, open only to boys' and girls' club members, is the only new class in the premium list. Indications are that there will be from 100 to 150 entries in this new class. All Entry Blanks for the show must reach Chicago before November 12. All exhibits must be on the grounds at Chicago, by November 21. If you wish additional Entry Blanks or Premium Lists, they can be had through this Association. We shall be glad to hear from you as to the number of entries you expect to make.

The executive committee, at their meeting October 24, made plans for the Annual Meeting to be held January 11, 1922.

The committee judging system was decided upon for the State Show, which will be held January 9-13, 1922. Prof. A. T. Wiancko was named chairman on a committee of three to judge the corn show with Prof. M. L. Fisher, chairman of the small grain committee. W. Q. Fitch was again named superintendent of the State Show.

Present Year Registers Difference In Activities of The Corn Ear Worm

By FRANK N. WALLACE
(Entomologist for The State Conservation Department)

The corn ear worm is one of our native insects which has been a pest principally of corn in this state in former years. It is true that it attacked other crops but at least 90 per cent of its damage was done to corn. It has been here so long and the resultant damage so constant that it is accepted by farmers and gardeners as one of the conditions to be expected.

The present year registers a considerable difference in the activities of this pest as its destruction is so excessive that it is not easy to estimate the damage done to crops. Every indication points to a loss running into millions of dollars.

A study of the life cycle of this pest enables one to see why the damage is so much greater and more serious this year than for several seasons. Normally there are but two broods of this insect in this state. Ear worms winter as pupae in the soil and emerge in the spring and lay eggs. Each female lays on an average of 600 eggs. There are not many parasites of this pest and a large number of the larvae mature.

The second generation is most nu-

75 PERCENT SIGNED UP

Kendal Co., Ill., First to Complete
Grain Growers Campaign

Kendal Co., Ill., is the first county in the United States in which the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., has completed its organization campaign. A total of 899 members were signed up in the county. This number represents 75 per cent of the farmers in the county who produce surplus grain. Eighty-five percent of the grain acreage is owned by members of the U. S. Grain Growers.

Robert N. Clark is in charge of the organization campaign in Illinois. He reports that among those who have signed the contracts are Harvey Sconce and H. L. Baldu, of Sidell, Ill.; who grow 7,000 acres of grain. State Senators H. M. Dunlap and Simon Lantz are also numbered among the Grain Growers.

PIG CLUB MEMBER AWARDED A TRIP

On Account of Noteworthy Achievement
Cecil Pike Will go to International Livestock Exposition

HELD AT CHICAGO NOV. 28

Award Was Made by Club Department of Purdue—Brought Pig up to 319 Lbs. in 7 Months

On account of noteworthy achievement in his work as a member of the Richland Township Boys' Pig Feeding Club, Cecil Pike, son of Fred D. Pike, has been awarded a trip to the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago Nov. 28 to Dec. 4.

The award was made by the Club Department of Purdue, officials of which are arranging an interesting program for the boys who are making the trip from Indiana.

The achievement which won the award for the Pike boy was making a pure-bred Duroc pig, which weighed 58 pounds on May 1, weigh 319 pounds on September 1, at an age of seven months. He fed a ration of corn and milk.

Special plans are being made by the American Farm Bureau Federation to entertain the five hundred farm boys and girls who will spend a week in Chicago during the International Live Stock Exposition, November 26 to December 3.

These boys and girls are the prize winning members of the boy's and girls' clubs which operate under the auspices of the agricultural colleges and the Department of Agriculture. They were selected from 330,000 competing club members.

The entire group will inspect the general headquarters of the American Farm Bureau Federation, where they will be received by President J. R. Howard and his staff.

APPLICATIONS TO TEST CATTLE COME

County Agent Reports 200 Received
Following Circular Letter

TESTING FREE OF CHARGE

If Owner Carries Out Agreement, He May be Reimbursed For Animals Disposed Of

A circular letter which was sent out recently from the county agents' office urging farmers to take advantage of the Accredited Herd plan for tuberculin testing of their cattle has brought a splendid reaction from the farmers. The office reports that applications for the testing of about 200 head of cattle have been received, and every day brings to the office requests for further information on the plan.

Under the Accredited Herd Plan the testing is done free of charge under the direction of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Animal Industry, in co-operation with the Indiana State Live Stock Sanitary Board. The owner of the cattle agrees to dispose of the reacting animals, if any are found, as recommended and directed by the officials in charge of the work.

If the owner of the cattle carries out the agreement, he is entitled to reimbursement for any animals disposed of as reactors. The reimbursement comes from government and state funds and the two departments reimburse the farmer to the extent of two-thirds of the value of the animal. So under the plan, the farmer is not only assisted in locating the dangerous animals in his herd, but is relieved from having to sacrificing the full value of the animals that react.

The work is going like wild fire over the state and it is reported that some 1500 herds are now in the waiting list for the service. Those in charge of the work in this county are anxious to get the applications in as soon as possible so that a tester can be secured for the work in the shortest possible time.

Indiana Crop Report

(U. S. Department of Agriculture, Cooperating with Indiana Legislative Reference Bureau)

State House, Indianapolis, Ind., November 11.—The merchantable corn in Indiana this year amounts to only 136,419,000 bushels, including more than 20,000,000 carried over from last year's crop, according to the co-operative crop reporting service for Indiana, issued today. White potatoes, buckwheat, tobacco, and apples also show heavy losses in production compared with last year, but sweet potatoes show a considerable gain. The report follows:—

The corn crop now being harvested is, with the exception of the 1917 crop, the poorest in point of quality that has been produced on Indiana farms in many years, although the average yield is practically the same as the 10 year average. With more than 50 percent husked, the total indicated crop amounts to 163,620,000 bushels on

The premium lists for the Rush County Products show will be off the press and ready for distribution early next week. The list includes classes in corn, hogs, poultry, culinary products and sewing. The total amount of premiums listed amounts to $1277.00.

The interest that is being shown in the exhibit over the county indicates that it will be one of the biggest affairs of its kind ever accomplished in Rush County. There is especially keen interest in the hog and poultry departments and the exhibits in these sections bid fair to be interesting features of the show.

The fact that the show will be open for inspection at night as well as during the day will prove a popular arrangement, and the committee is working up special features for those that attend the night exhibit.

The committee urges all exhibitors, especially in the hog and poultry departments, to get their entries listed with the secretary early so that pen and coop reservations can be made for the accommodation of exhibitors. All correspondence in this connection should be addressed to the secretary, in care of the County Agent's office.

INDUSTRY BEING PUT ON ITS FEET

Livestock Business Received Helpful
Assistance From War Finance Corporation

COMPANIES ARE ORGANIZED

Formed at Albuquerque, N. M., in Southwestern Kansas and Vicinity of Houston, Tex.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The War Finance Corporation announces the organization of a new livestock loan company at Albuquerque, New Mexico. The company is composed of livestock men, bankers and business men, with a subscribed capital stock of $500,000. It will receive advances from the Corporation for the purpose of assisting the livestock industry in New Mexico. This is only one of many livestock companies which are now being formed in cooperation with the War Finance Corporation.

Another such company is being formed in southwestern Kansas with a capital stock of not less than $500,000 with the probability that $1,000,000 will be subscribed. The corporation has agreed to make large advances to this company as soon as its organization is complete.

Still a third company now being formed is capitalized at $500,000 and is composed of livestock interests in the vicinity of Houston, Texas. A great many other livestock companies are in process of formation but have not reached the point of completion where the War Finance Corporation can finance them.

The effect of all of this is to relieve the pressure upon the livestock market and stop the sale of immense amounts of immature and breeding stock which is now being put up at forced sale. A good example of this is afforded in Montana. A telegram to the War Finance Corporation from T. A. Marlow, of Helena, Montana, chairman of the Montana Regional committee, states that shipments of breeding herds from Montana have almost entirely stopped as the result

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 11.—What is expected to be one of the most important gatherings of farmers ever held in the United States will be the second annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which will be held here from November 21 to 24.

Thousands of farmers from all parts of the United States, as well as representatives from foreign countries, will be in attendance.

The program calls for addresses from Bernard Baruch, financial advisor of the Grain Growers' Corporation, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, and other noted industrial and agricultural leaders.

James H. Howard of Chicago, its president and a successful farmer, will preside at the sessions of the convention. All other national officers will be in attendance.

The Georgia Farm Bureau Federation of which R. A. Kelley of Tenile, Ga., is president, will be host. A social program, which includes a number of new features, has been arranged. The chief event of the convention socially will be the Georgia Products dinner to be tendered the visiting delegates.

Many matters of supreme importance to the farmer will be taken up at the meeting. Co-operative marketing, one of the biggest problems now facing the farmer, will most likely occupy a great deal of attention.

Miss E. Pearl Cartmill of Chicago is examiner of small loan agencies for the state of Illinois and the only woman in the United States to hold such a position.

An Appeal For Near East Relief

Writing from Washington, United States Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas, nationally known champion of agricultural interests in the United States senate, makes a personal appeal to farmers to contribute to the mercy pool of grain now being collected throughout the nation for the relief of the starving farmers and their families of the Holy Land. Senator Capper says:

"Millions of farmers in Armenia and the Bible lands—men, women and children, especially women and children—are starving. Their men folk are killed off in religious and other wars forced upon them, their country devastated, their homes looted, their live stock driven off, their crops ruined and no means of planting adequate crops for the coming season, these women and children are dying by the thousands for lack of food and clothing. They are appealing to their farmer neighbors of America for food.

"The Near East Relief is working day and night, gathering food and clothing for their relief. City people are being solicited for money and clothing. This money is used in buying food and hospital supplies, American farmers are solicited to contribute wheat and corn and other grains. Arrangements have been made with elevators everywhere for its collection and shipment. As chairman of the national agricultural advisory committee of the Near East Relief, composed of representatives of all the national agricultural organizations, I appeal to the generous farmers individually and through their local farm organizations, in group movements, to rally at once to the support of this great humanitarian cause."

BROTHER DIES THURSDAY

Dr. J. M. Walker Receives Word of Demise of Frank I. Walker

Dr. J. M. Walker received word yesterday while attending the Methodist Episcopal church conference in Indianapolis of the sudden death of his brother, Frank I. Walker in Milwaukee, Wis., yesterday. The deceased was fifty years of age and is survived by a widow and a son and daughter. He was professor of music in the Milwaukee schools, but his home was in New Albany, Ind. Dr. Walker left yesterday for Milwaukee to accompany the body to New Albany where the funeral services will be held.

Nameless Hero is Laid to Rest in Bosom of Home Land

his coup stick. He bade the "unknown" in the Croux dialect, a peaceful journey to the happy hunting ground, where live those who die bravely.

The body was then lowered into the grave.

A solemn funeral cortege today bore to its last resting place the body of America's unknown soldier.

Down Capitol Hill from the honored shrine where it had laid in state, the flower-strewn casket of the unknown was escorted by the great men of this nation to the hallowed spot at Arlington.

The president of the United States his cabinet, the supreme court, governors of states, both houses of congress and soldiers from all ranks walked silently behind the simple artillery caisson on which the body lay.

Near the end of the procession and cheered all along the way was Woodrow Wilson, America's war president.

Just as the sun dissipated a morning mist which hung low over the Capital grounds, watchers at the foot of the hill heard the blare of funeral trumpets, and saw the silent procession wend its way slowly down the hill to the broad stretch of Pennsylvania avenue where thousands waited to pay tribute.

Riding ahead, on a coal black charger, Brigadier General Bandholtz, commanding the Washington district, led the greatest funeral procession Americans have ever witnessed. Behind him rode his staff.

Then while the crowds on the sidewalks gasped with admiration, picked groups of mounted artillery pranced past, every horse in the long lines perfectly matched, a dappled grey. Then a squadron of coal black horses, then brown ones, each with a white blazed past. Then so suddenly and silently that the crowd was scarcely prepared for it—the caisson, and the body of the unknown soldier.

BANKERS TELL WHY THE MARK SLUMPS

New York, Nov. 11—Is Germany forcing the mark down artificially with a view to dodging her reparations obligations?

This question, propounded in France and America, is answered with an emphatic negative by both American and German bankers with whom I have been in contact. They say that the enormous purchases of foreign currency Germany must make to meet her reparations obligations is the main cause for the big slump in the mark the past few months. They predict this slump will continue so long as the present reparations conditions are maintained.

I presented the question to Director Paul Mankiewicz of the Deutsche Bank, Berlin, before leaving Berlin. He answered quickly.

"One ought not to consider the German government foolish. It hasn't the slightest interest in depressing the mark. * * * From Churchill's speech and Lloyd George's dealings, it ought to be clear to the whole world that responsible quarters in Germany and the entente have gained the impression that the whole reparations demands, including the ultimatum, are built on uncertain ground."

He pointed out that the government must pay vastly more for its railroad and waterways material, for wages and salaries under a falling mark, and that a constant depreciation makes it impossible to present a real budget. Under such circumstances, he maintained, it could scarcely be to the government's advantage to try artificial depression. As for playing into the hands of industry thereby, Mankiewicz observed: "German prices are such that nobody can compete with them now; industry doesn't need any such help from the government." He shares the view of other German bankers that a different method of reparations payments or periods must be devised.

Which is Larger the Sun or a Cent?

"Why—the sun of course" you will say. But remember—you can hold the cent so close to your eye that you lose sight of the sun. Some baking powders can be bought for a few pennies less than Calumet—but don't hold these cents too close to your eyes—you will not be able to see the quality—the purity—the dependability of

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

In other words, don't be deceived by a few pennies—the cheapest baking powder in price is often the most expensive.

When you buy Calumet you know that it will produce pure, sweet, and wholesome bakings. You know that you use less because it contains more than the ordinary leavening strength.

Buy it—try it—be convinced.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Armistice Day

Today America bowed its head in reverence for the countless men and women who for love of country gave their lives.

The spirit of the day touched the very pinnacle of American ideals. It expresses the sentiment embodying the love of one's native land and its people. It was manifested by observances throughout the length and breadth of the country—in some places by noise and glamor and in others by quiet prayer—a prayer of thanksgiving that God-blessed America had emerged from the greatest of all conflicts and that the people of America have visions of removing causes which precipitated such a war.

The observance of the day will grow as time goes on. In years to come Armistice Day will be one of the outstanding holidays of the year for it will require time for the American people to get the proper perspective and the true conception of the part which America played in the World War.

The beautiful ceremony at Arlington today was one to inspire patriotism and likewise to devotion to the ideals for which Americans fought. As the people of this assemblage, surrounding the grave of the "unknown", stood in silent prayer, millions of their fellow citizens, in accordance with President Harding's proclamation, paused in their work and gave "silent prayer of thanks to the Giver of all good for these valuable and valorous lives."

The President then made his address, and later bestowed on the Unknown Hero the Congressional Medal of Honor, and the highest decorations of Allied Governments.

The casket bearing the Unknown Soldier was removed to the front of the amphitheater, where a sarcophagus had been prepared, such as used by the Greeks of old. The chaplain conducted service and prayers, surrounded by the President and a great panorama of people. Three salvos of gunfire burst forth, and then taps float over the Virginia Hills. The National Salute of twenty-one guns, fired only for the President of the United States or a foreign ruler, completed the highest homage that this nation could give to its Unknown Hero.

Around the top of the Amphitheater, are hewn in the stone names forever linked with America's fight for freedom and the preservation of our ideals and principles of right—Bunker Hill, Yorktown, Appomattox, Manila, Santiago.

Stamped in blood on the sarcophagus in front of Arlington Memorial Amphitheater are other names of equal importance in the history of this Nations—Chateau-Thierry, Argonne, Saint-Mihel.

"The muffled drums' sad roll has beat" for this "unknown", and his unknown comrades who lie in peace in Flanders Field where "poppies grow, between the crosses, row on row".

Dirt To Tell Tale

(By United Press)
Barango, Colo., Nov. 11—An attempt is to be made to determine the age of habitation of the cliff dwellers at Mesa Verde, near here, according to Dr. A. H. Andrews, Chicago and has just completed a trip to the park. A large glass bowl similar in shape to an hour-glass, will be used in the experiment. The bowl will be placed among the ruins to collect dust and dirt through a period of years. Acting on the theory that the ruins were covered with dirt through the action of the elements for ages, the investigators believe that if the "hour-glass" is kept there for a number of years, the elements will have similar effect on it.

The result of the experiment will be the key in determining how many hundreds of years ago the ruins were habited.

Championship of The East May be Decided in Three Major Football Contests Schedule

PRINCETON MEETS YALE

Penn State and Navy Also to Clash and Pittsburgh Battles With Washington and Jefferson

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
New York, Nov. 11—Armistice Day finds the football legions drawn up ready for a series of the most bitter battles of the season tomorrow.

The championship of the east may be decided through three major contests that furnish one of the most attractive cards of the hectic season.

Through its traditional prestige, the second of the "Big Three" battles between Princeton and Yale at New Haven will be the ranking game of the card.

The skirmish between the Tiger and the Bull Dog will be of more importance also because the Yale eleven, the greatest Blue aggregation of years, stands for the eastern title.

Surrounded by color almost as interesting, the battle at Philadelphia between the great Penn State eleven and the Navy perhaps will be the finest game of the day.

Both elevens are championship contenders and both have unusually fine teams. Both pay a smashing offensive game. With three such sterling backfield stars as Capt. Snell, Killinger and Lightner, Penn State is regarded as a slight favorite. The Navy line is perhaps the greatest in the east, however, and the State backfield will face its stiffest opposition of the season.

Pittsburgh, also running in the front rank for the title, will have a tough opponent in the big Washington and Jefferson team which has been steaming along over all opposition. Since being defeated in an early game by Lafayette, the Panthers have been playing a wonderful game and they have championship aspirations.

Harvard, getting ready for the Yale game next week, has Brown for an opponent. Many critics believe the Crimson to be in need of hard work and easy tussle with the Bears may not do Capt. Kane's eleven the necessary good.

Though both are out of the running, the Dartmouth-Pennsylvania game on the Polo Grounds here should develop into a good game.

Wisconsin, standing for the Western conference title, meets Michigan and Chicago takes on Illinois, while Ohio States is having it out with Purdue. Iowa appears to have an easy foe in Indiana.

How To Get Relief From Rheumatism

Scientists Agree That the Cause Is Due to Waste Products In the Blood.

The blood is the means by which all tissues, muscles, ligaments and flesh of the body are directly or indirectly nourished. It is also thru the blood stream that worn-out tissues and waste products are cast out of the system. When waste products accumulate, they are a menace to life. They cause a lowered vitality, many skin disorders and rheumatism. Genuine relief from the agonies of rheumatism can be had only by correcting the basic trouble—waste products.

Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have cleared their blood of waste products with S. S. S. It is the ideal remedy for rheumatism, because it removes the poisonous waste matter which is causing the trouble. There are no bad after effects and the result is wonderful. Begin taking S. S. S. today and write for 50 page illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free.

Personal medical advice, without charge, may also be had by sending a complete description of your case. Address Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 732 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. All good drug stores sell S. S. S.

Baking is Made Easy and Pleasant the Year 'Round for the Woman who has a

LEONARD

Three-Fuel Hi-Oven Range

It means more of those delicious home-cooked foods your family so much enjoys, without inconvenience or fatigue. Keeps the kitchen comfortably warm in winter and delightfully cool in summer. The Leonard Three-Fuel Range gives you three stoves in one—a coal or wood range, a gas range, and a heater.

Nickeling and castings are smooth and easy to keep clean. Absolutely simple in construction and operation. There are no parts to remove when changing fuels—no complicated levers or dampers to bother with.

The shoulder-high oven frees you from tiresome stooping, and in addition to that it heats more quickly, more evenly and with less fuel than the old style low oven. Cuts a big corner off your coal bill by heating an extra room or two in cold weather, with the fuel that does the cooking and baking.

You'll find a rare combination of comfort, economy and beauty of design in the Leonard Hi-Oven Three Fuel Range—don't miss this opportunity to see it. We'll take pleasure in showing you this and other convenient types of Leonard Hi-Oven Ranges.

S. L. HUNT, Hardware

Gas and coal compartments are independent of each other—both fuels may be used at once if desired. Oven heats evenly on all sides and is scientifically ventilated. Heats equally well with gas or coal. The Leonard Combination occupies no more space than an ordinary gas range. Excellent for heating one or more rooms in winter.

ARLINGTON OUT TO DEFEAT SHELBYVILLE

Athletic Club's Football Team Hopes to Break Tie Existing After First Game

OUTWEIGHED 30 LBS. TO MAN

The Arlington Athletic club will play the Shelbyville American Legion team Sunday at that city, in what is expected to be a real football contest. These two teams played to a 0 to 0 tie at Arlington a few Sundays ago, and at that time Arlington appeared to have the best of things, the game ending with Arlington having the ball on Shelbyville's 15 yard line.

The Shelby team will outweigh the Arlington team 30 pounds to the man. Arlington will take along a big bunch of rooters Sunday, and Caron of Rushville will hold his regular position as right tackle.

The probable line-up for the Arlington team will be as follows: Tom Wilcoxen, center; J. Ferris, R. G.; J. Caron, R. T.; M. Wicker, R. E.; W. Gustin, L. G.; H. Rohman, L. T.; A. Metsker, L. E.; R. Wilcoxen, Q; B. C. Northam, R. H. (Capt.); Ding Northam, L. H.; B. Manly, F. B.; Hutchinson, Wilson, Treisman and Toney Wilcoxen will be utility players.

Yankee Five Trounces Blue Ridge, 50 to 18. And Reserves Defeat Rushville Shamrocks

INDIANAPOLIS "Y" COMING

The Carthage Yankee Five, independent basketball team had a walkaway last night at that place, when they trounced the Blue Ridge Independents by the tune of 50 to 18. The game was an even draw for the first five minutes, but Carthage took a spurt and showed superior form, leading 20 to 9, at the half way mark. Chambers and Simmons scored 42 points, and Berth at back guard was a tower of strength on the defensive.

The Indianapolis Y. M. C. A. leaders will play at Carthage on Tuesday night, and are fast players, losing only one game last year, and that to Kokomo.

In the curtain raiser last night the Rushville Shamrocks lost to the Carthage Reserves by the score of 21 to 15. The first half was very rough on both sides, but settled down in the last period. The Shamrocks were in striking distance for a tie all of the way.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM PILES?

You Can Be Cured and Be Yourself Again by Using Miro Internal Treatment.

Mrs. T. G. Greenough of 9 Trion Street, Lynn, Mass., writes: "I suffered with piles, not only one kind but every kind known, bleeding, protruding, internal and external. God only knows what I suffered. Tried all kinds of salves and ointments but not one did me any good. Could lie down with difficulty and could not sit down even on a rubber cushion. Read about Miro in our local paper and had my husband get a bottle the next day from a Boston druggist.

"Would you believe I had only taken 3 doses when I was walking around and feeling pretty good. I had made up my mind I could not live in the condition I was in for another week unless I got relief. You certainly have a God send in Miro. I cannot praise it too highly."

Through your druggist, we sell Miro Internal Treatment and guarantee it to give complete satisfaction or your money will be refunded.

WANT CENTRAL POWER PLANT IN COAL FIELDS

Public Service Commission Discusses Petition For Generation of Electricity in Indiana.

SMALLER SECURITY SOUGHT

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 11.—The public service commission today had before it a petition seeking to re-open the possibility of establishing a central power plant in the coal fields of Indiana for the generation of electricity and its distribution to all parts of the state.

Some time ago, the commission refused to permit the merger of seven electric utilities into the Indiana Electric Corporation with a view to the gigantic electrical enterprise. The commission refused to permit the issuance of $21,000,000 securities to put the plan into operation, because the value of the properties to be merged was insufficient to warrant it.

The petition indicates that a smaller security issue will be sought.

Cities affected by the proposed merger vigorously fought it when the previous petition was heard by the commission. They brought out that the appraisal of the properties for taxation was far below the value listed by the Indiana Electrical Corporation when it asked permission to issue the securities.

Companies which the merger proposed to include were: Merchants Heat and Light, Indianapolis; Elkhart Gas and Fuel, Valparaiso; Light Company; Wabash Valley Electric Company of Clinton; Putnam Electric Company of Greencastle; and the Cayuga Electric company.

NEW YORK STATE SHY ON COFFIN MATERIAL

"Buy Your Coffin Early" Will be Business Slogan if Forests Are Not Preserved

URGE MORE TREE PLANTING

Buffalo N. Y., Nov. 11.—"Buy your coffin early," will be a business slogan in New York state before long, if the forests are not preserved.

New York state is running shy on coffin material, the State College of Forestry has discovered. Only a seventh of the population of the state could be provided coffins from state forests, the college authorities stated.

The college calls attention to the great destruction of forest lands and points out that wanton destruction of the forests have so depleted the supply that the only reason one doesn't have to wait seven years for a coffin is that nine-tenths of the lumber used for caskets and rough boxes is imported from outside the state's border.

More tree planting, better forest protection and closer utilization of wood production is urged by the college to save the state from the wild orgy of waste that has been in progress for the past century and which has now reached serious proportions.

an average yield of 36 bushels per acre. Last month the condition figure indicated 160,711,000 bushels and last year the crop amounted to 184,072,000 bushels, of which only 8 percent was not merchantable. This year 29 percent, or 47,459,000, bushels is unmerchantable. Ear worm proved to be more damaging than any other single agency. The mould damage and dry rot are both very extensive and considerable corn is down badly. To off set the heavy damage, however, there is a carry over from last year of approximately 20,249,000 bushels, leaving a net total of merchantable corn of 136,419,000 bushels.

The average weight per measured bushel of small grains in Indiana ran considerably lighter than the legal standard. Winter wheat made 55 pounds, spring wheat 54 pounds, oats 26 pounds and barley 42 pounds.

ENGLAND HONORS ARMISTICE DAY

In Celebration of Day Movement
Ceased For Two Minutes at 11
A. M. in Mourning For Dead

BELL SIGNALLED THE HOUR

Biggest Celebration in London
Where Vast Throngs Went to Cenotaph and Westminster Abbey

(By United Press)

London, Nov. 11—The third anniversary of Armistice Day was celebrated officially and privately throughout the country this morning and at 11 a. m. all movement ceased for two minutes, during which the nation stood silent in mourning for the dead. The only exception was in the case of the railways whose time schedule would have been dislocated by even two minutes' delay, and water transport dependent upon the tides. Even here, trains and boats were halted where it could safely be done.

In the cities the hour of 11 was signalled by rockets or bells and all vehicles came to a halt, passengers rising and standing hatless with bowed heads. All the churches held special services, and the conclusion of the two minutes' period of mourning was heralded by joy-bells.

The biggest celebration was held in London where vast throngs made pilgrimages to the Cenotaph and Westminster Abbey. At the Cenotaph on Whitehall there was an imposing civil and military display.

Eleven o'clock was signalled by the discharge of the war time air raid, rocket signals. The troops came to the salute, and the thousands of spectators massed in Whitehall stood bareheaded. In many places the bareheaded silence of the great city was broken by the sobs of bereaved women. At 11:2 a fresh salvo of rockets marked the end of the period of mourning and this was followed by the singing of the hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past" accompanied by the massed bands. Upon its conclusion the massed buglers sounded the "Reveille" and the ceremony ended.

The public were then marshaled in long columns marching past the Cenotaph to Westminster, enabling those desiring to do so, to place wreaths on the memorial. There were many thousands of beautiful floral tributes.

Russian Crown

Jewels In Paris

By WILFRID FLEISHER

Paris, Nov. 11—Valuable jewels, heirlooms of Russian nobility, are changing hands in Paris a fraction of their actual value.

While the identity of the owners is not revealed, some of the gems are known to have belonged to the collection of the Empress Catherine the Great and others to the Emperor Paul I and by them handed down through generations of titles.

J. Weisager, Russian commission jeweler, is disposing of the treasures, retailing them, one by one, as they are brought to him, selling them at half their actual value to turn them more quickly into ready cash.

Interviewed by the United Press, Weisager was loth to speak of the jewels, fearing that the identity of those whose names he was shielding might be revealed. "Members of some of our very best families," he said, "find themselves almost destitute here."

Opening his safe, he showed the correspondent some of the valued treasures. One was an ivory fan, once a gift from Emperor Paul I to Countess Lieven. The handle was inlaid with jewels, diamonds, rubies, sapphires and semi-precious stones from the Ural mountains.

Next, Weisager brought out a beautiful pearl necklace, valued at a half a million francs heavy set rings with large scintillating stones, chains, vanity boxes, brooches and a collection of old watches. Weisager explained that the big jewelers of the rue de la Paix are not buying at present and that is why he is retailing the gems himself.

LIVED YEARS ON BREAD AND MILK

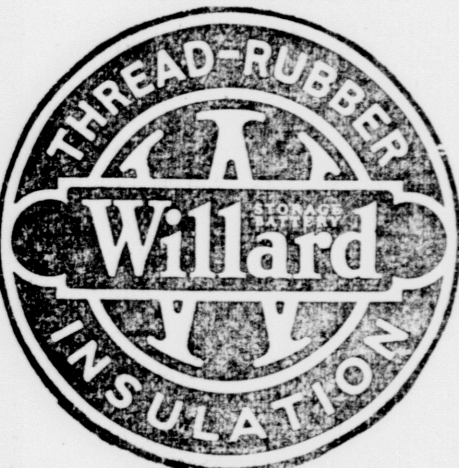

For More Than Decade Malady of Alabama Woman Was Continually Sapping Her Strength

Mrs. H. P. Barrett, of Republic, suburb of Birmingham, Ala., gives the facts of her remarkable experience with Tanlac as follows: "During the past fourteen years I have spent more than one thousand dollars trying to get rid of a complaint that was gradually sapping my strength, but until I got hold of Tanlac nothing helped me. For the past four years I have lived almost entirely on milk and bread, and finally even that went against me. "Before I had finished the first bottle of Tanlac I got so I could eat anything, and I certainly bless the day I first got this medicine for I believe it has added years to my life. The people in my neighborhood were so surprised at the change in me that fourteen of them by actual count are now taking Tanlac." Tanlac is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson Drug Co. and by leading druggists everywhere. Advertisement

Water—When and How Much

Hundreds of batteries die of thirst every year. Not because their owners didn't know water was necessary. Not because they didn't know the neglect was shortening battery life and costing them money. But simply because they overlooked it—hadn't the distilled water handy or didn't know just how much to put in. We can't do your remembering, but we can take all the rest of the job off your hands. Drive around anytime and ask us to see if your battery needs water.

NAMELESS HERO IS LAID TO REST IN BOSOM OF HOME LAND

In the Marble Sarcophagus in Arlington Cemetery, Hallowed Body Now Lies.

CEREMONY ENDS AT 1:27

Homage Unknown to Emperor's Dead, With Sorrowing Multitude a Witness, Paid "Unknown."

"HEARD AROUND THE WORLD"

Roar of the Mighty Guns Echoes the Salute Through the Virginia Hills.

(By United Press)

Arlington National Cemetery, Nov. 11.—America's nameless hero is at rest.

The nation's sad rites are done. The homage unknown to emperor's dead is ended. The sorrowing multitude has turned back to the city.

The unknown soldier is left to sleep out time in the bosom of the Virginia hills. The ceremony of the burial was finished at 1:27 p. m. In the marble sarcophagus before the great amphitheater at Arlington, the hallowed body, symbolizing the war spirit of America, was laid to rest by the bravest of his comrades. His head rests upon the soil of France, stained with the life blood which had been scattered beneath his black casket shrouded in the flag for which he died.

Throughout the day the "unknown" was attended the highest tribute of the nation and the world. The roar of the mighty guns echoed the salute through the Virginia hills. It was a message "heard around the world." America's heroic dead sleeps at home at last.

As the silver bugles sobbed out taps the great multitude in the amphitheatre stood uncovered in mute farewell. "Lead Kindly Light," the favorite hymn of former President McKinley, preceded the commitment of the "dust unto dust and ashes unto ashes" ceremony conducted by Chaplain Brent.

Out from the group surrounding the grave stepped a giant figure in soldier uniform and overseas cap, Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr. of New York, and laid tenderly upon the tomb a wreath—the symbol of the pulchritude of anyone of the "unknown's" buddies.

The most touching tribute bestowed upon the casket was the wreath presented by the American and British war mothers. Proudly but tearfully these, representing the thousands of mothers who had lost lads in the war, were laid with tender and heartfelt sympathy on the tomb. Mrs. Emmett Digney represented America. Mrs. Julia McCadden represented Great Britain.

Standing opposite them was the stern old Croux Chief Coo, awaiting his turn. It came. With stern dignity of his quaint ancient warfare, he placed his offering, a war bonnet with trailing feathers, stripped from his own head. With it he laid down

United States Congressional medal of honor, by President Harding.

Belgian croix de guerre, by Lieutenant General Baron Jaques.

Great Britain's Victoria cross, by Admiral Earl Beatty.

French "Medaille Militaire" with Croix de Guerre, by Marshall Foch.

Italian gold medal for bravery, by General Armando Diaz.

Czecho-Slovak war cross, by Dr. Bedrich Stephanek, minister to the United States.

Polish virtuti militari, by Prince Lubomirski, minister to the United States.

Whose Boy Is It,

Washington, Nov. 11.—More than 3,000 mothers throughout the country today were saying:

"It may be my boy."

War department records show that 3,089 American soldiers of the World War still are reported as missing. The unknown soldier buried here today, is one of this number.

SUMMONS WORLD TO WAR CRUSADE

President Says Sacrifice of "Unknown" and Million Others "Shall Not be in Vain"

WORDS CARRY SIGNIFICANCE

Bending Reverently, With Audience Joining Softly, President Offers Up The Lord's Prayer

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Amphitheater Arlington National Cemetery, Nov. 11.—The commanding voice of the world was summoned to a crusade against armed warfare by President Harding as he stood at the bier of America's unknown dead today.

His sacrifice and that of the millions dead, "shall not be in vain," the president promised in a solemn vow that rang out over the silent mourners in the vast amphitheater. "These must be—there shall be—the commanding voice of a conscious civilization against armed warfare."

President Harding addressed his measured words directly at the disarranged delegates who sat grouped in front of him. His declaration, uttered on the eve of the great conference that meets tomorrow, carried significance.

Pending reverently over the casket the president with the vast audience joining softly, offered up the Lord's prayer as he closed his address.

"I speak not as a pacifist fearing war, but as one who loves justice and hates war," Harding declared in voicing his resolution that civilization must make a supreme effort to end war for all time.

"Let us give our influence and strength, yea, of our aspirations and convictions, to put mankind in a little higher plane, exulting and exalting, with war's distressing and depressing tragedies barred from the stage of righteous civilization," he pleaded. With vivid strokes, Harding painted the spectacular rain of death he witnesses during a modern battle demonstration at Camp Benning, Georgia, recently when the earth trembled as big guns sent shells shrieking over his head and tracer bullets flew past in deadly concentration.

"As this panorama of an utterable destruction visualized the horrors of modern conflict, there grew on me the sense of the failure of a civilization which can leave its problems to such cruel arbitrament," he continued. "Surely no one in authority with human attributes and a full appraisal of the patriotic loyalty of his countrymen, could ask the manhood of kingdom, empire or republic to make such a sacrifice until all reason had failed, until appeal to justice through understanding had been denied until every effort of love and consideration for fellowmen had been exhausted, until freedom itself and inviolate honor had been threatened."

SCHOOLS TRIBUTE TO SOLDIER DEAD

Children Bow Heads For Two Minutes at 11 O'clock as "Unknown" is Lowered Into Grave.

REPEAT THE LORD'S PRAYER

Church Bells and Court House Bell Told From 10:55 to 11:00 in Observing Armistice Day.

Armistice Day did not pass unobserved in Rushville or Rush county.

Although there was no celebration with accompanying brass bands and noise, there was an observance which centered in the schools of the county and had a deeper significance and served to impress on the coming generation the meaning of the occasion better than any other means that might have been used.

Church bells and the court house bell tolled from 10:55 to 11 o'clock this morning, arrangements being made for this observance with ministers and the county authorities by Rush Post of the American Legion.

The observance in the Rushville public school, which was arranged by Superintendent J. H. Scholl, was especially significant.

As the body of the unknown soldier was lowered into the grave at 12 o'clock noon, eastern time (11 a. m. Central time) every pupil in the Rushville schools, both grades and high school, bowed their head for two minutes during a period of quiet in honor of the soldier who symbolized the American heroic dead in the World War.

After the period of quiet in the high school, teachers read "Soldier Rest," by Sir Walter Scott, from "The Lady of The Lake," which appears at another place on this page. At the close of the two minutes of silence in the grades, led by their teachers, the pupils repeated the Lord's Prayer, just as President Harding did at the conclusion of his address over the bier of the "Unknown" at Arlington.

Similar observance of the day was carried out in the township schools throughout the county, in accordance with a request from the county board of education delivered to the teachers.

In Rushville schools, teachers also made a few remarks regarding the day, calling attention to what it meant and signified in the life of every American. Pupils were asked to think that the soldier who was laid to rest today with as great ceremony as that accorded any president, statesman or war leader, might have been their father or brother; that he represented all of the noble men who had given their lives that children of the present day might live to enjoy the freedom and happiness which the republic of the United States guarantees to all its citizens.

The two minutes of silent reverence for the soldier dead at eleven o'clock was requested by President Harding as a token of respect from the people of America to the memory of the men and women who gave their lives in the late war.

St. Mary's Catholic church will hold special services tonight at 7:30 o'clock. They will take place in accordance with a request from Bishop Chartrand sent to all Catholic churches.

Soldier, Rest!

Soldier, rest! thy warfare o'er,
Sleep the sleep that knows not breaking;
Dream of battle-fields no more,
Days of danger, nights of waking.

In our isle's enchanted hall,
Hands unseen thy couch are strewing;
Fairy strains of music fall,
Every sense in slumber dawning.

Soldier, rest; thy warfare o'er,
Dream of fighting fields no more;
Sleep the sleep that knows not breaking,
Morril of toil nor night of waking.

No rude sound shall reach thine ear,
Armor's clang or war-steed champing;
Trump, nor pibroch summon here,
Mustering clan, or squadron tramping.

Yet the lark's shrill life may come,
At the daybreak from the fallow,
And the bitter sound his drum,
Booming from the sedgy shallow.

Ruder sounds shall none be near,
Guards nor warders challenge here;
Here's no war-steed's neigh and champing,
Shouting clans or squadron's stamping.

—Sir Walter Scott.

This poem was read in the Rushville high school today at eleven o'clock, following a brief period of quiet, during which pupils bowed their heads and were silent. In the grades at the same time pupils were also asked to bow their heads for one minute, after which they repeated the Lord's Prayer, lead by their teachers.

WIDE RESPONSE TO POSTAL APPEAL

Campaign For House Numbers And Mail Receptacles in Rushville Heeded by Patrons

ARE BIG AID TO DELIVERY

Public Shows Disposition to Meet Requirements as Many New Numbers Are in Evidence

The campaign being conducted by the post office department for the betterment of house numbering and other conditions affecting mail service is meeting with success, it has been announced. The federal department originated the movement in the belief that a big improvement of the mail delivery service would result from the placing of numbers on all houses and places of business receiving mail, and the erection of proper receptacles for the mail to be placed in.

Much mail has been lost in the past because proper receptacles were not furnished in which to place it. The absence of numbers on houses has also been the cause of many cases of delay and of errors in delivery. To overcome these two conditions, the department started a campaign on October 19 in all the cities of the country, attempting to impress upon the people the importance of aiding mail service by paying better attention to these defects.

The local postoffice announced the campaign through the Daily Republican and a wide response to the appeal has already been noted by postal officials. Many patrons have placed numbers on their homes for the first time and others have installed mail receptacles on their houses. It is pointed out that it is to the interest of everyone to cooperate with the postoffice department in this matter as better mail service will result.

When it appears that the patrons are beginning to lag in their efforts to improve conditions, those who have not complied with the regulations will be notified that they are expected to have house numbers and receptacles.

The installing of proper mail containers is just as important, and is a matter which should be of as much interest to the person receiving mail as to the postal authorities, for valuable letters may be easily lost or stolen if the postman is unable to place them in a safe and convenient receptacle.

Those persons who have received notification that their houses are not properly equipped with numbers and mail receptacles, and who have

TRUSTEE HELD ON TWO INDICTMENTS

Alva Newhouse of Jackson Township Accused of Unlawfully Receiving Money.

NEGLIGENCE ALSO ALLEGED

Edwin Price in Jail on Wife Desertion Charge—"Bardy" Wilson John Bell Pay Fines.

With the close of the September term of court tomorrow, considerable business was being transacted today in order to close up all affairs on the docket, including the serving of a number of grand jury indictments that have been hanging over for several weeks.

Alva Newhouse, trustee of Jackson township, was arraigned on two grand jury indictments, and provided $1,000 bond on each charge, not entering a plea to the charges.

One charge, unlawful official negligence, alleges that on July 31, 1921, the trustee failed to comply with the law in awarding a contract for the repairing of the Chester Cross and Hotter Powell road, to Walter C. Reinheimer, without advertising for competitive bids, as stipulated by law. The price was said to be $2,000 for the road work.

The other charge is unlawfully receiving money on a contract, and the indictment alleges that on June 15, 1919, the trustee entered into a contract with McGuire and Shook, architects for plans for a school building, and that the contract stated that the architects were to receive 3 per cent of the lowest competitive bid submitted for the proposed school.

The indictment charges that the lowest bid was for $6,500 and that the architects were paid $2,450, which was $500 in excess to the amount that they should have received, and it is charged that the trustee converted the money unlawfully.

The grand jury probed the alleged affairs for several days, and there were many taxpayers of the township called before them during their investigations.

Edwin Price went to jail this morning when he pleaded not guilty to a charge of wife desertion before Judge Sparks, and could not provide the necessary $1,000 bond.

Vernal McDaniel was arrested and arraigned this morning on an indictment charging him with assault and battery with intent, and he entered a plea of not guilty, and provided the $1,000 bond for his appearance in court next month.

Charles (Bardy) Wilson entered a plea of guilty to public intoxication, and was fined $5 and costs, and a similar plea and fine was paid by John (Hot Stuff) Bell, when arraigned at the same time this morning.

JURY IN A DISAGREEMENT

Fails to Agree in Case of Two Boys Charged With Theft

The jury in the case of the State against Gerard Goodin and Earl Hall, disagreed late yesterday afternoon, and the case will come up for trial some time during the next term. The two young men were charged with grand larceny in connection with the alleged theft of 40 chickens from the farm of Ithamer McCarty. It is understood that the jury stood five for conviction and seven for acquittal.

Thomas J. Marshall has brought suit against Capp Miller and Delaney Miller, the complaint being for $2,000 damages. The complaint is over a partnership on a woodland farm in Franklin county.

Plans for the International Grain and Hay Show to be held in Chicago, Nov. 26 to Dec. 3, have been completed. Wider publicity has been given through the Crop Improvement Association, colleges, International Management, Chicago Board of Trade and other agencies, than in any previous year. Over 100,000 premium lists have been distributed. An increase of 25 to 50 percent in entries is indicated.

The Indiana Corn Growers' Association will send a representative to Chicago to look after Indiana's interests. C. A. Brown, President of the Corn Growers' Association, was selected for this place at the executive meeting of the Corn Growers' Association, Monday, October 24th. Mr. Brown will see that all Indiana entries are properly arranged in their classes and packed for return shipment at the close of the show. Prof. A. T. Wiancko, of Purdue, will serve on the Corn Judging Committee. The other corn judges are Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and Ohio. The judging will begin Saturday, Nov. 26, the opening day of the International.

Indiana Growers have an exceptional opportunity to try for a large share of the $100,000 premium list given by the Chicago Board of Trade. There are 50 places in both "White and Yellow Dent corn in Regions 3 and 4, in Indiana, with prize money ranging from $50 to $5. The Junior Contest, open only to boys and girls' club members, is the only new class in the premium list. Indications are that there will be from 100 to 150 entries in this new class. All Entry Blanks for the show must reach Chicago before November 12. All exhibits must be on the grounds at Chicago, by November 21. If you wish additional Entry Blanks or Premium Lists, they can be had through this Association. We shall be glad to hear from you as to the number of entries you expect to make.

The executive committee, at their meeting October 24, made plans for the Annual Meeting to be held January 11, 1922.

The committee judging system was decided upon for the State Show, which will be held January 9-13, 1922. Prof. A. T. Wiancko was named chairman on a committee of three to judge the corn show with Prof. M. L. Fisher, chairman of the small grain committee. W. Q. Fitch was again named superintendent of the State Show.

Present Year Registers Difference

In Activities of The Corn Ear Worm

By FRANK N. WALLACE
(Entomologist for The State Conservation Department).

The corn ear worm is one of our native insects which has been a pest principally of corn in this state in former years. It is true that it attacked other crops but at least 90 per cent of its damage was done to corn. It has been here so long and the resultant damage so constant that it is accepted by farmers and gardeners as one of the conditions to be expected.

The present year registers a considerable difference in the activities of this pest as its destruction is so excessive that it is not easy to estimate the damage done to crops. Every indication points to a loss running into millions of dollars.

A study of the life cycle of this pest enables one to see why the damage is so much greater and more serious this year than for several seasons. Normally there are but two broods of this insect in this state. Ear worms winter as pupae in the soil and emerge in the spring and lay eggs. Each female lays on an average of 600 eggs. There are not many parasites of this pest and a large number of the larvae mature. The second generation is most nu-

75 PERCENT SIGNED UP

Kendal Co., Ill., First to Complete Grain Growers Campaign

Kendal Co., Ill., is the first county in the United States in which the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., has completed its organization campaign. A total of 899 members were signed up in the county. This number represents 75 per cent of the farmers in the county who produce surplus grain. Eighty-five percent of the grain acreage is owned by members of the U. S. Grain Growers.

Robert N. Clark is in charge of the organization campaign in Illinois. He reports that among those who have signed the contracts are Harvey Seconce and H. L. Balm, of Sidel, Ill., who grow 7,000 acres of grain. State Senators H. M. Dunlap and Simon Lantz are also numbered among the Grain Growers.

PIG CLUB MEMBER AWARDED A TRIP

On Account of Noteworthy Achievement Cecil Pike Will go to International Livestock Exposition

HELD AT CHICAGO NOV. 28

Award Was Made by Club Department of Purdue—Brought Pig up to 319 Lbs. in 7 Months

On account of noteworthy achievement in his work as a member of the Richland Township Boys' Pig Feeding Club, Cecil Pike, son of Fred D. Pike, has been awarded a trip to the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago Nov. 28 to Dec. 4.

The award was made by the Club Department of Purdue, officials of which are arranging an interesting program for the boys who are making the trip from Indiana.

The achievement which won the award for the Pike boy was making a pure-bred Duroc pig, which weighed 58 pounds on May 1, weigh 319 pounds on September 1, at an age of seven months. He fed a ration of corn and milk.

Special plans are being made by the American Farm Bureau Federation to entertain the five hundred farm boys and girls who will spend a week in Chicago during the International Live Stock Exposition, November 26 to December 3.

These boys and girls are the prize winning members of the boys' and girls' clubs which operate under the auspices of the agricultural colleges and the Department of Agriculture. They were selected from 330,000 competing club members.

The entire group will inspect the general headquarters of the American Farm Bureau Federation, where they will be received by President J. R. Howard and his staff.

APPLICATIONS TO TEST CATTLE COME

County Agent Reports 200 Received Following Circular Letter Sent Recently

TESTING FREE OF CHARGE

If Owner Carries Out Agreement, He May be Reimbursed For Animals Disposed Of

A circular letter which was sent out recently from the county agents' office urging farmers to take advantage of the Accredited Herd plan for tuberculosis testing of their cattle has brought a splendid reaction from the farmers. The office reports that applications for the testing of about 200 head of cattle have been received, and every day brings to the office requests for further information on the plan.

Under the Accredited Herd Plan the testing is done free of charge under the direction of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Animal Industry, in co-operation with the Indiana State Live Stock Sanitary Board. The owner of the cattle agrees to dispose of the reacting animals, if any are found, as recommended and directed by the officials in charge of the work.

If the owner of the cattle carries out the agreement, he is entitled to reimbursement for any animals disposed of as reactors. The reimbursement comes from government and state funds and the two departments reimburse the farmer to the extent of two-thirds of the value of the animal. So under the plan, the farmer is not only assisted in locating the dangerous animals in his herd, but is relieved from having to sacrifice the full value of the animals that react.

The work is going like wild fire over the state and it is reported that some 1500 herds are now in the waiting list for the service. Those in charge of the work in this county are anxious to get the applications in as soon as possible so that a tester can be secured for the work in the shortest possible time.

Indiana Crop Report

(U. S. Department of Agriculture, Cooperating with Indiana Legislative Reference Bureau).

State House, Indianapolis, Ind., November 11—The merchantable corn in Indiana this year amounts to only 136,119,000 bushels, including more than 20,000,000 carried over from last year's crop, according to the co-operative crop reporting service for Indiana, issued today. White potatoes, buckwheat, tobacco and apples also show heavy losses in production compared with last year, but sweet potatoes show a considerable gain. The report follows:—

The corn crop now being harvested is, with the exception of the 1917 crop, the poorest in point of quality that has been produced on Indiana farms in many years, although the average yield is practically the same as the 10 year average. With more than 50 percent husked, the total indicated crop amounts to 163,620,000 bushels on

PREMIUMS WILL BE PUBLISHED NEXT WEEK

List For Rush County Products Show Includes Classes in Corn, Hogs, Poultry, Culinary, Sewing

PREMIUMS AMOUNT TO $1277

The premium lists for the Rush County Products show will be off the press and ready for distribution early next week. The list includes classes in corn, hogs, poultry, culinary products and sewing. The total amount of premiums listed amounts to $1277.00.

The interest that is being shown in the exhibit over the county indicates that it will be one of the biggest affairs of its kind ever accomplished in Rush County. There is especially keen interest in the hog and poultry departments and the exhibits in these sections bid fair to be interesting features of the show.

The fact that the show will be open for inspection at night as well as during the day will prove a popular arrangement, and the committee is working up special features for those that attend the night exhibit.

The committee urges all exhibitors, especially in the hog and poultry departments, to get their entries listed with the secretary early so that pen and coop reservations can be made for the accommodation of exhibitors. All correspondence in this connection should be addressed to the secretary in care of the County Agent's office.

Livestock Business Received Helpful Assistance From War Finance Corporation

COMPANIES ARE ORGANIZED

Formed at Albuquerque, N. M., in Southwestern Kansas and Vicinity of Houston, Tex.

Washington, Nov. 11—The War Finance Corporation announces the organization of a new livestock loan company at Albuquerque, New Mexico. The company is composed of livestock men, bankers and business men, with a subscribed capital stock of $500,000. It will receive advances from the Corporation for the purpose of assisting the livestock industry in New Mexico. This is only one of many livestock companies which are now being formed in cooperation with the War Finance Corporation.

Another such company is being formed in southwestern Kansas with a capital stock of not less than $500,000 with the probability that $1,000,000 will be subscribed. The corporation has agreed to make large advances to this company as soon as its organization is complete.

Still a third company now being formed is capitalized at $500,000 and is composed of livestock interests in the vicinity of Houston, Texas. A great many other livestock companies are in process of formation but have not reached the point of completion where the War Finance Corporation can finance them.

The effect of all of this is to relieve the pressure upon the livestock market and stop the sale of immense amounts of immature and breeding stock which is now being put up at forced sale. A good example of this is afforded in Montana. A telegram to the War Finance Corporation from T. A. Marlow, of Helena, Montana, chairman of the Montana Regional committee, states that shipments of breeding herds from Montana have almost entirely stopped as the result

FARM PROBLEMS TO BE DISCUSSED

American Farm Bureau Federation Will Meet in Second Annual Convention Nov. 21-24

THOUSANDS WILL ATTEND

Chief Event Will be Georgia Products Dinner to be Tendered to Visiting Delegates

(By United Press)
Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 11.—What is expected to be one of the most important gatherings of farmers ever held in the United States will be the second annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which will be held here from November 21 to 24.

Thousands of farmers from all parts of the United States, as well as representatives from foreign countries, will be in attendance.

The program calls for addresses from Bernard Baruch, financial advisor of the Grain Growers' Corporation, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, and other noted industrial and agricultural leaders.

James H. Howard of Chicago, its president and a successful farmer, will preside at the sessions of the convention. All other national officers will be in attendance.

The Georgia Farm Bureau Federation of which R. A. Kelley of Tenile, Ga., is president, will be host. A social program, which includes a number of new features, has been arranged. The chief event of the convention socially will be the Georgia Products dinner to be tendered the visiting delegates.

Many matters of supreme importance to the farmer will be taken up at the meeting. Co-operative marketing, one of the biggest problems now facing the farmer, will most likely occupy a great deal of attention.

Miss E. Pearl Cartmill of Chicago is examiner of small loan agencies for the state of Illinois and the only woman in the United States to hold such a position.

An Appeal For Near East Relief

Writing from Washington, United States Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas, nationally known champion of agricultural interests in the United States, senate, makes a personal appeal to farmers to contribute to the mercy pool of grain now being collected throughout the nation for the relief of the starving farmers and their families of the Holy Land. Senator Capper says:

"Millions of farmers in Armenia and the Bible lands—men, women and children, especially women and children—are starving. Their men folk are killed off in religious and other wars forced upon them, their country devastated, their homes looted, their live stock driven off, their crops ruined and no means of planting adequate crops for the coming season, these women and children are dying by the thousands for lack of food and clothing. They are appealing to their farmer neighbors of America for food."

"The Near East Relief is working day and night, gathering food and clothing for their relief. City people are being solicited for money and clothing. This money is used in buying food and hospital supplies, American farmers are solicited to contribute wheat and corn and other grains. Arrangements have been made with elevators everywhere for its collection and shipment. As chairman of the national agricultural advisory committee of the Near East Relief, composed of representatives of all the national agricultural organizations, I appeal to the generous farmers individually and through their local farm organizations, in group movements, to rally at once to the support of this great humanitarian cause."

BROTHER DIES THURSDAY

Dr. J. M. Walker Receives Word of Demise of Frank I. Walker

Dr. J. M. Walker received word yesterday while attending the Methodist Episcopal church conference in Indianapolis of the sudden death of his brother, Frank I. Walker in Milwaukee, Wis., yesterday. The deceased was fifty years of age and is survived by a widow and a son and daughter. He was professor of music in the Milwaukee schools, but his home was in New Albany, Ind. Dr. Walker left yesterday for Milwaukee to accompany the body to New Albany where the funeral services will be held.

Nameless Hero is Laid to Rest in Bosom of Home Land

his coup stick. He bade the "unknown" in the Croux dialect, a peaceful journey to the happy hunting ground, where live those who die bravely.

The body was then lowered into the grave.

A solemn funeral cortege today bore to its last resting place the body of America's unknown soldier.

Down Capitol Hill from the honored shrine where it had laid in state, the flower-strewn casket of the unknown was escorted by the great men of this nation to the hallowed spot at Arlington.

The president of the United States his cabinet, the supreme court, governors of states, both houses of congress and soldiers from all ranks walked silently behind the simple artillery caisson on which the body lay.

Near the end of the procession, and cheered all along the way was Woodrow Wilson, America's war president.

Just as the sun dissipated a morning mist which hung low over the Capital grounds, watchers at the foot of the hill heard the blare of funeral trumpets, and saw the silent procession wend its way slowly down the hill to the broad stretch of Pennsylvania avenue where thousands waited to pay tribute.

Riding ahead, on a coal black charger, Brigadier General Bandholtz, commanding the Washington district, led the greatest funeral procession Americans have ever witnessed. Behind him rode his staff.

Then while the crowds on the sidewalks gasped with admiration, picked groups of mounted artillery pranced past, every horse in the long lines perfectly matched, a dappled grey. Then a squadron of coal black horses, then brown ones, each with a white blazed past. Then so suddenly and silently that the crowd was scarcely prepared for it—the caisson, and the body of the unknown soldier.

BANKERS TELL WHY THE MARK SLUMPS

New York, Nov. 11.—Is Germany forcing the mark down artificially with a view to dodging her reparations obligations?

This question, propounded in France and America, is answered with an emphatic negative by both American and German bankers with whom I have been in contact. They say that the enormous purchases of foreign currency Germany must make to meet her reparations obligations is the main cause for the big slump in the mark the past few months. They predict this slump will continue so long as the present reparations conditions are maintained.

I presented the question to Director Paul Mankiewicz of the Deutsche Bank, Berlin, before leaving Berlin. He answered quickly.

"One ought not to consider the German government foolish. It hasn't the slightest interest in depressing the mark. * * * From Churchill's speech and Lloyd George's dealings, it ought to be clear to the whole world that responsible quarters in Germany and the entente have gained the impression that the whole reparations demands, including the ultimatum, are built on uncertain ground."

He pointed out that the government must pay vastly more for its railroad and waterways material, for wages and salaries under a falling mark, and that a constant depreciation makes it impossible to present a real budget. Under such circumstances, he maintained, it could scarcely be to the government's advantage to try artificial depression. As for playing into the hands of industry thereby, Mankiewicz observed: "German prices are such that nobody can compete with them now; industry doesn't need any such help from the government." He shares the view of other German bankers that a different method of reparations payments or periods must be devised.

Which is Larger the Sun or a Cent?

"Why—the sun of course" you will say. But remember—you can hold the cent so close to your eye that you lose sight of the sun.

Some baking powders can be bought for a few pennies less than Calumet—but don't hold these cents too close to your eyes—you will not be able to see the quality—the purity—the dependability of

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

In other words, don't be deceived by a few pennies—the cheapest baking powder in price is often the most expensive.

When you buy Calumet you know that it will produce pure, sweet, and wholesome bakings. You know that you use less because it contains more than the ordinary leavening strength.

Buy it—try it—be convinced. A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Armistice Day

Today America bowed its head in reverence for the countless men and women who for love of country gave their lives.

The spirit of the day touched the very pinnacle of American ideals. It expresses the sentiment embodying the love of one's native land and its people. It was manifested by observances throughout the length and breadth of the country—in some places by noise and glamor and in others by quiet prayer—a prayer of thanksgiving that God-blessed America had emerged from the greatest of all conflicts and that the people of America have visions of removing causes which precipitated such a war.

The observance of the day will grow as time goes on. In years to come Armistice Day will be one of the outstanding holidays of the year for it will require time for the American people to get the proper perspective and the true conception of the part which America played in the World War.

The beautiful ceremony at Arlington today was one to inspire patriotism and likewise to devotion to the ideals for which Americans fought. As the people of this assemblage, surrounding the grave of the "unknown", stood in silent prayer, millions of their fellow citizens, in accordance with President Harding's proclamation, paused in their work and gave "silent prayer of thanks to the Giver of all good for these valuable and valorous lives."

The President then made his address, and later bestowed on the Unknown Hero the Congressional Medal of Honor, and the highest decorations of Allied Governments.

The casket bearing the Unknown Soldier was removed to the front of the amphitheater, where a sarcophagus had been prepared, such as used by the Greeks of old. The chaplain conducted service and prayers, surrounded by the President and a great panorama of people. Three salvos of gunfire burst forth, and then taps float over the Virginia Hills. The National Salute of twenty-one guns, fired only for the President of the United States or a foreign ruler, completed the highest homage that this nation could give to its Unknown Hero.

Around the top of the Amphitheater, are hewn in the stone names forever linked with America's fight for freedom and the preservation of our ideals and principles of right—Bunker Hill, Yorktown, Appomattox, Manila, Santiago.

Stamped in blood on the sarcophagus in front of Arlington Memorial Amphitheater are other names of equal importance in the history of this Nation—Chateau-Thierry, Argonne, Saint-Mihiel.

"The muffled drums" said roll has beat" for this "unknown", and his unknown comrades who lie in peace in Flanders Field where "poppies grow, between the crosses, row on row."

Dirt To Tell Tale

(By United Press)

Burango, Colo., Nov. 11—An attempt is to be made to determine the age of habitation of the cliff dwellers at Mesa Verde, near here, according to Dr. A. H. Andrews, Chicago and has just completed a trip to the park. A large glass bowl similar in shape to an hour-glass, will be used in the experiment. The bowl will be placed among the ruins to collect dust and dirt through a period of years. Acting on the theory that the ruins were covered with dirt through the action of the elements for ages, the investigators believe that if the "hour-glass" is kept there for a number of years, the elements will have similar effect on it.

The result of the experiment will be the key in determining how many hundreds of years ago the ruins were habited.

BITTER TILTS ON TOMORROW'S BILL

Championship of The East May be Decided in Three Major Football
Contests Schedule

PRINCETON MEETS YALE

Penn State and Navy Also to Clash
and Pittsburgh Battles With Washington and Jefferson

By HENRY L. FARRELL,
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
New York, Nov. 11.—Armistice
Day finds the football legions drawn up ready for a series of the most bitter battles of the season tomorrow.

The championship of the east may be decided through three major contests that furnish one of the most attractive cards of the hectic season.

Through its traditional prestige,
the second of the "Big Three" battles between Princeton and Yale at New Haven will be the ranking game of the card.

The skirmish between the Tiger and the Bull Dog will be of more importance also because the Yale
eleven, the greatest Blu aggregation of years, stands for the eastern title.

Surrounded by color almost as interesting, the battle at Philadelphia between the great Penn State eleven and the Navy perhaps will be the finest game of the day.

Both elevens are championship contenders and both have unusually fine teams. Both pay a smashing offensive game. With three such sterling backfield stars as Capt.
Snell, Killinger and Lightner, Penn
State is regarded as a slight favorite.
The Navy line is perhaps the greatest in the east, however, and the State backfield will face its stiffest opposition of the season.

Pittsburgh, also running in the front rank for the title, will have a tough opponent in the big Washington and Jefferson team which has been steaming along over all opposition.
Since being defeated in an early game by Lafayette, the Panthers have been playing a wonderful game and they have championship aspirations.

Harvard, getting ready for the Yale game next week, has Brown for an opponent. Many critics believe the Crimson to be in need of hard work and easy tussle with the Bears may not do Capt. Kane's eleven the necessary good.

Although both are out of the running,
the Dartmouth-Pennsylvania
game on the Polo Grounds here should develop into a good game.

Wisconsin, standing for the Western conference title, meets Michigan and Chicago takes on Illinois, while Ohio State is having it out with Purdue. Iowa appears to have an easy foe in Indiana.

How To Get Relief From Rheumatism

Scientists Agree That the Cause
Is Due to Waste Products
In the Blood.

The blood is the means by which all tissues, muscles, ligaments and flesh of the body are directly or indirectly nourished. It is also the blood stream that waste products and waste products are cast out of the system.
When waste products accumulate, they are a menace to life. They cause a lowered vitality, many skin disorders and rheumatism.
Genuine relief from the agonies of rheumatism can be had only by correcting the basic trouble—waste products.

Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have cleared their blood of waste products with S. S. S.
It is the ideal remedy for rheumatism, because it removes the poisonous waste matter which is causing the trouble. There are no bad after effects and the result is wonderful.

Baking is Made Easy and Pleasant the Year 'Round for the Woman who has a

LEONARD

Three-Fuel Hi-Oven Range

It means more of those delicious home-cooked foods your family so much enjoys, without inconvenience or fatigue. Keeps the kitchen comfortably warm in winter and delightfully cool in summer. The Leonard Three-Fuel Range gives you three stoves in one—a coal or wood range, a gas range, and a heater. Nickeling and castings are smooth and easy to keep clean. Absolutely simple in construction and operation. There are no parts to remove when changing fuels—no complicated levers or dampers to bother with.

The shoulder-high oven frees you from tiresome stooping, and in addition to that it heats more quickly, more evenly and with less fuel than the old style low oven. Cut a big corner off your coal bill by heating an extra room or two in cold weather, with the fuel that does the cooking and baking.

You'll find a rare combination of comfort, economy and beauty of design in the Leonard Hi-Oven Three-Fuel Range—don't miss this opportunity to see it. We'll take pleasure in showing you this and other convenient types of Leonard Hi-Oven Ranges.

S. L. HUNT, Hardware

Gas and coal compartments are independent of each other—both fuels may be used at once if desired. Oven heats evenly on all sides and is scientifically ventilated. Heats equally well with gas or coal. The Leonard Combination occupies no more space than an ordinary gas range. Excellent for heating one or more rooms in winter.

Athletic Club's Football Team Hopes to Break Tie Existing After First Game

OUTWEIGHED 30 LBS. TO MAN

The Arlington Athletic club will play the Shelbyville American Legion team Sunday at that city, in what is expected to be a real football contest.
These two teams played to a
0 to 0 tie at Arlington a few
Sundays ago, and at that time Arlington appeared to have the best of things, the game ending with Arlington having the ball on Shelbyville's 15 yard line.

The Shelby team will outweigh the Arlington team 30 pounds to the man. Arlington will take along a big bunch of footers Sunday, and Caron of Rushville will hold his regular position as right tackle.

The probable line-up for the Arlington team will be as follows: Tom Wilcoxen, center; J. Ferris, R. G.;
J. Caron, R. T.; M. Wicker, R. E.;
W. Gustin, L. G.; H. Rohm, L. T.;
A. Mettsler, L. E.; R. Wilcoxen, Q;
B. C. Northam, R. H. (Capt.); Ding
Northam, L. H.; B. Manly, F. B.;
Hatchinson, Wilson, Treishman and
Toney Wilcoxen will be utility players.

CARTHAGE TEAMS WIN BOTH CONTESTS

Yankee Five Trounces Blue Ridge,
50 to 18, And Reserves Defeat
Rushville Shamrocks

INDIANAPOLIS "Y" COMING

The Carthage Yankee Five, independent basketball team had a
walkaway last night at that place,
when they trounced the Blue Ridge
Independents by the tune of 50 to 18. The game was an even draw for the first five minutes, but Carthage took a spurt and showed superior form, leading 20 to 9, at the half way mark. Chambers and Simmons scored 42 points, and Berch at back guard was a tower of strength on the defensive.

The Indianapolis Y. M. C. A. leaders will play at Carthage on Tuesday night, and are fast players, losing only one game last year, and that to Kokomo.

In the curtain raiser last night the Rushville Shamrocks lost to the Carthage Reserves by the score of 21 to 15. The first half was very rough on both sides, but settled down in the last period. The Shamrocks were in striking distance for a tie all of the way.

ORGANIZES FOOTBALL TEAM

Rush Post of American Legion to Play Arlington Here Nov. 20

Rush post No. 150 of the American Legion, at a meeting in their new club rooms Thursday night decided to organize a football team
and accept a challenge from the Arlington
Athletic club for a game here
Sunday, November 27. Harry Petry was chosen to organize a team and practice will begin at once in preparation for the game. Arlington had an open date on November 20 and was very anxious to play in Rushville.
Rush post discussed the organization of a football team earlier in the season, but gave it up because not many ex-service men could be found who would play. There are twenty candidates for the team and it is expected that a fast team will be organized.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM PILES?

You Can Be Cured and Be Yourself Again by Using Miro Internal Treatment.

Mrs. T. G. Greenough of 9 Trion Street, Lynn, Mass., writes: "I suffered with piles, not only one kind but every kind known, bleeding, protruding, internal and external. God only knows what I suffered. Tried all kinds of salves and ointments but not one did me any good. Could lie down with difficulty and could not sit down even on a rubber cushion. Read about Miro in our local paper and had my husband get a bottle the next day from a Boston druggist.

"Would you believe I had only taken 3 doses when I was walking around and feeling pretty good. I had made up my mind I could not live in the condition I was in for another week unless I got relief. You certainly have a God send in Miro. I cannot praise it too highly."

Through your druggist, we sell Miro Internal Treatment and guarantee it to give complete satisfaction or your money will be refunded.

WANT CENTRAL POWER PLANT IN COAL FIELDS

Public Service Commission Discusses Petition For Generation of Electricity in Indiana.

SMALLER SECURITY SOUGHT

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 11.—The public service commission today had before it a petition seeking to re-open the possibility of establishing a central power plant in the coal fields of Indiana for the generation of electricity and its distribution to all parts of the state.

Some time ago, the commission refused to permit the merger of seven electric utilities into the Indiana Electric Corporation with a view to the gigantic electrical enterprise. The commission refused to permit the issuance of $21,000,000 securities to put the plan into operation, because the value of the properties to be merged was insufficient to warrant it.

The petition indicates that a smaller security issue will be sought. Cities affected by the proposed merger vigorously fought it when the previous petition was heard by the commission. They brought out that the appraisal of the properties for taxation was far below the value listed by the Indiana Electrical Corporation when it asked permission to issue the securities.

Companies which the merger proposed to include were: Merchants Heat and Light, Indianapolis; Elkhart Gas and Fuel, Valparaiso; Lighting Company; Wabash Valley Electric Company of Clinton; Putnam Electric Company of Greencastle; and the Cayuga Electric company.

NEW YORK STATE SHY ON COFFIN MATERIAL

"Buy Your Coffin Early" Will be Business Slogan if Forests Are Not Preserved

URGE MORE TREE PLANTING

Buffalo N. Y., Nov. 11.—"Buy your coffin early," will be a business slogan in New York state before long, if the forests are not preserved.

New York state is running shy on coffin material, the State College of Forestry has discovered. Only a seventh of the population of the state could be provided coffins from state forests, the college authorities stated.

The college calls attention to the great destruction of forest lands and points out that wanton destruction of the forests have so depleted the supply that the only reason one doesn't have to wait seven years for a coffin is that nine-tenths of the lumber used for caskets and rough boxes is imported from outside the state's border.

More tree planting, better forest protection and closer utilization of wood production is urged by the college to save the state from the wild orgy of waste that has been in progress for the past century and which has now reached serious proportions.

an average yield of 36 bushels per acre. Last month the condition figure indicated 160,711,000 bushels and last year the crop amounted to 184,072,000 bushels, of which only 8 percent was not merchantable. This year 29 percent, or 47,450,000, bushels is unmerchantable. Ear worm proved to be more damaging than any other single agency. The mould damage and dry rot are both very extensive and considerable corn is down badly. To off set the heavy damage, however, there is a carry over from last year of approximately 20,249,000 bushels, leaving a net total of merchantable corn of 136,419,000 bushels.

The average weight per measured bushel of small grains in Indiana ran considerably lighter than the legal standard. Winter wheat made 55 pounds, spring wheat 54 pounds, oats 26 pounds and barley 42 pounds.

The yield per acre of buckwheat in Indiana was considerably larger than usual and made an average of 19 bushels. On this basis a crop of 171,000 bushels is indicated compared with 200,000 bushels harvested last year. The quality of the crop is 89 percent of a high medium grade.

White potatoes in Indiana did not do as well as usual this year. An average yield of only 51 bushels per acre was obtained on which a production of 4,080,000 bushels is indicated compared with 7,680,000 bushels harvested last year. The quality is 75 percent of a high medium grade. It was estimated that 22 percent of the crop was raised for the market.

Sweet potatoes made almost a normal yield per acre in Indiana this year, producing an average of 132 bushels, which indicates a crop of 396,000 bushels, compared with 360,000 bushels harvested last year. The quality is 94 percent of a high medium grade and 40 percent were produced for the market.

Tobacco made about the average yield in Indiana this year, yielding 875 pounds to the acre. On this basis a production of 11,375,000 pounds is indicated with the quality at 64 percent of a high medium grade. Last year's crop amounted to 6,097,000 bushels.

The yield of clover seed in Indiana this year averaged 1.2 bushels per acre for all varieties. On this figure a production of 79,200 bushels is the preliminary estimate, compared with 142,000 bushels harvested last year.

Grain sorghum in Indiana made an average yield of 24 bushels per acre where grown for grain and 6.0 tons of forage where grown for that purpose only. The average for both is somewhat less than last year.

Field peas in Indiana made an average of 88 percent of a normal yield of grain and 90 percent of a normal yield of forage, with the average approximately the same as last year.

The total production of grapes in Indiana was only 59 percent of usual with the quality at 85 percent of a high medium grade.

The total production of pears in Indiana was only 19 percent of the usual with the quality 77 percent of a high medium grade.

Sorghum cane for syrup in Indiana yielded an average of 80 gallons per acre, which is about the usual amount.

this state and in many instances destroyed 30 to 50 percent of the chrysanthemum and carnation buds before discovered. It was possible to control them in such invasions and in any intensively cultivated area, but it is not practical to do this with a corn crop, and as a result farmers suffered heavy losses. Worms eating in the ears of corn will cause much of it to rot and elevators will this season receive considerably less first class corn for storage than customary. While many farmers undoubtedly will feed this mottled corn it is problematical if good results follow such a ration, although it seems the only method of disposal and even partial recovery on a damaged corn crop.

Mr. Wallace is optimistic as regards the corn crop next year, stating that nature sets up a balance somehow and we may not experience any more trouble next season with this pest than we had prior to 1921.

LIVED YEARS ON BREAD AND MILK

For More Than Decade Malady of Alabama Woman Was Continually Sapping Her Strength

Mrs. H. P. Barrett, of Republic, suburb of Birmingham, Ala., gives the facts of her remarkable experience with Tanlac as follows:

"During the past fourteen years I have spent more than one thousand dollars trying to get rid of a complaint that was gradually sapping my strength, but until I got hold of Tanlac nothing helped me. For the past four years I have lived almost entirely on milk and bread, and finally even that went against me.

"Before I had finished the first bottle of Tanlac I got so I could eat anything, and I certainly bless the day I first got this medicine for I believe it has added years to my life. The people in my neighborhood were so surprised at the change in me that fourteen of them by actual count are now taking Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Rushville by T. B. Johnson Drug Co. and by leading druggists everywhere. Advertisement

LARGE SUM GIVEN TO EX-SOLDIERS

207,592 Former Service Men Receiving Compensation From Government, Says R. N. Elliott

SPEAKS AT RICHMOND, IND.
In Armistice Day Speech Outlines Effort to Provide Adequate Relief For Disabled

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 11—Congress has appropriated this year $489,000,000 for the relief of men who were in the military and naval services of the United States during the World War, and for their dependents, and the director of the U. S. Veteran's Bureau reports that there are now 207,592 former service men, and dependents of former service men, receiving compensation from the government. Representative Richard N. Elliott, sixth district of Indiana, said in an address delivered here today at an Armistice Day celebration held under the auspices of the local American Legion post.

Mr. Elliott stated that the United States government was putting forth every effort to provide adequate relief for the disabled veterans of the late war. He said the task was an immense one, citing the fact that there were still approximately 52,000 claims for compensation awaiting adjudication.

To provide pensions for disabled veterans of the Civil and the Spanish-American wars congress has appropriated this year $265,500,000.

There are now 28,987 veterans of the late war who are patients in government hospitals. Of this number about 8,000 are victims of tuberculosis and about 11,000 are suffering from nervous and mental ailments. About 10,000 are surgical cases, Congressman Elliott stated.

He said that there are now approximately 95,000 former service men receiving vocational training from the government and that it was estimated that there were at least 186,000 other former service men eligible for this training.

The congressman called attention to the fact that the national debt had now reached "the staggering sum of twenty-five billions of dollars, or almost one-eleventh of the total wealth of the country", and that the cost of wars this country has engaged in and the cost of military and naval preparedness for national defense accounted for the larger part of this immense debt. He then referred to the international disarmament conference which begins its sessions in Washington tomorrow.

"This conference is of such vital import to all of the civilized people of the world," he said, "that we should all pray that those wise men who are participating in it will be able to meet every situation presented to them, and by reason of sheer honesty of purpose arrive at a solution of the question of reduction and limitation of the world's armaments. We should pray that conference will bring about an understanding among the nations that will result in everlasting peace and good will among mankind."

RESTRICTION OF WAR HORRORS TO BE RAISED

Use of Gas and Germs, Airships and Submarines Expected to be Topic For Arms Parley

AMERICA WILL BE READY

Washington, Nov. 11—Restrictions of the horrors of modern war—such as use of gas and germs, airships and submarines—will doubtless come before the arms limitation conference.

The American conferees will be fully equipped to consider such a theme government authorities said today. For they will have the advantage of the best technical opinion on these matters. Connected with the technical advisers is for instance Brigadier General Amos Fries, head of the chemical warfare service who will be prepared to inform the delegates as to possibilities of wiping out combatants and non combatants with gas and chemicals. He can for instance show how one drop of the so-called "honey dew" would wipe out persons in the immediate vicinity.

Both the army and navy will have the services of air experts Brigadier general William Mitchell will act for the army and Rear Admiral William A. Moffatt for the navy.

Thus far there is no disposition to limit these new weapons and new methods. Everywhere the talk is of a horror and frightfulness in any future war infinitely worse than in the world war. Under these circumstances it is deemed virtually inevitable that the limitation of these methods—perhaps a sort of modern Hague convention—will be sought.

PRINCIPAL OF LANE H. S.

O. D. Tyner, formerly of the high school is now principal of Lane Technical high school in Chicago, which has 4,000 students, according to word received here by friends. Mr. Tyner left here in 1913, first going to Oak Park high school at Oak Park, Ill. He first became associated with Lane Tech as professor of mathematics and was later elected principal.

AMUSEMENTS

Good Western at The Mystic

Harry Carey at his best in one of the most dramatic screen stories of his career, a splendid supporting cast and photography that establishes a new record for artistic camera work, is the entertainment promised playgoers who see "Desperate Trails" at the Mystic Theatre today.

The story was written by Courtney Ryley Cooper and appeared in the Red Book Magazine. It was purchased by Universal to provide Harry Carey with a story in which he could display the qualities of drama and humor which have endeared him to playgoers at the foremost exponent of the out-of-door action-tale. Irene Rich one of the screen's most naturally lovable women, was selected for the principal feminine role opposite the star while Barbara LaMar, the spectacular Parisian brunette, has the second feminine lead, that of an unfaithful woman.

George Stone and Helen Field, two clever screen kiddies, appear in sympathetic parts while Ed Coxen and George Seigmann have roles in keeping with their dramatic power. The story concerns a big hearted westerner who believes that he loves a woman. A train is robbed and she tells him her brother committed the crime. To save him the hero takes the blame and goes to prison. He there discovers that the robber is not the girl's brother but her lover, and returns to seek justice. In the swift climax he goes to the woman who with her two children, had been deserted by the man who robbed the train.

At Princess Two Days

Ontcasts from the four corners of the globe are the characters in "Bucking the Tiger" the Selznick Picture which comes to the Princess theatre today and Saturday. The scene is the wild snowbound wastes of the far north where man takes the law into his own hands unhampered by the red tape of legal procedures. Conway Tearle as MacDonald, the wayward and disgraced son of wealthy parents, driven from home in dishonor, has a role which contains wonderful possibilities for the demonstration of his subtle emotion-

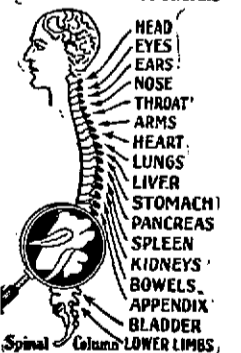

Rheumatism

Rheumatism is an acute or chronic incoordination of nerves, muscles, articulations, membranes or bones, characterized subjectively by pain and objectively by local fever, swelling, stiffness and sometimes deformity. Of all the chronic disorders to which man is subject, there is perhaps none more common than that of rheumatism in its various forms, and none which so handicaps the activities of man and limits his possibilities.

The Chiropractor

is specially trained to know what parts of the spine may be involved in cases of rheumatism. He is specially trained to locate those abnormal conditions in the spine and to correct them. It makes no difference whether the rheumatism is in one form or another, whether it is articular, muscular, acute or chronic, the cause traced to its last analysis lies in the inability of the nervous system to properly function because of impingements on the nerve fibres. The only logical way to correct the condition is to adjust the vertebrae so that the several organs of the body function normally.

alism. The supporting cast with Winifred Westover as leading woman to the star, contains many well known names.

The story concerns the efforts of Ritchie MacDonald to save Emily Dwyer a young girl who has come to the mining camp expecting to marry a scamp who had won her love under false pretenses. A novel scheme for financial assistance is suggested by MacDonald to the other miners, namely, that they subscribe for $100,000 insurance for one of their number, who should be obliged to sacrifice himself so the remaining four may receive the insurance. MacDonald himself receives the fatal number and he promises to commit suicide at the end of a year. He would have kept his word, but only one thing in the world would have excused him, and that one thing happened.
